

2022 Survey of State Procurement Practices Report

ABOUT THE SURVEY

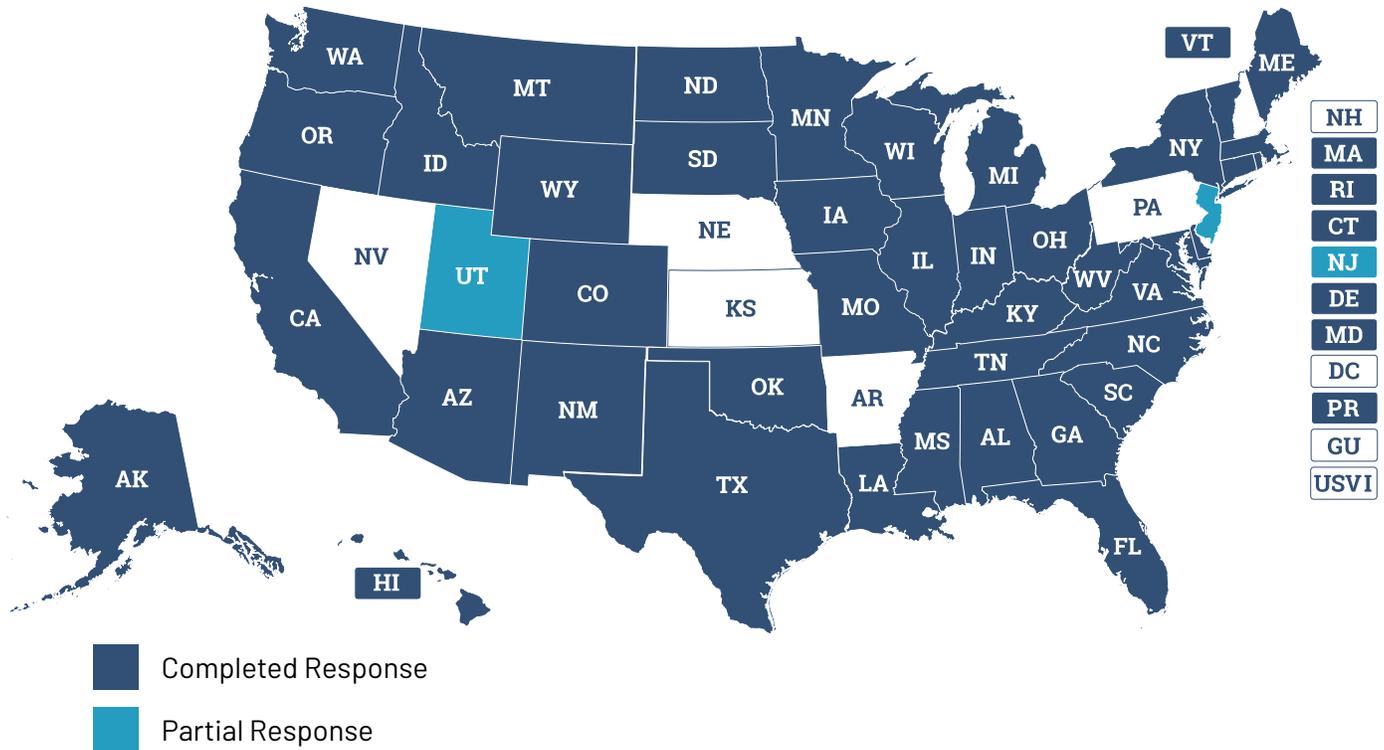

The Survey of State Procurement Practices is the comprehensive body of knowledge, including statutory, regulatory, and policy requirements for procurement, as well as existing practices in member states and territories of the National Association of State Procurement Officials (NASPO). For the purposes of this report, the term “state” will be used to refer to any responding state, territory, or jurisdiction. Central procurement officials in 45 member states participated in the online survey. Forty-three completed all or nearly all questions, with another 2 member states offering responses to a portion of questions. Survey findings presented in this report reflect statutes, laws and regulations, policies, and practices as collected from June until October of 2022. This report summarizes responses to the 2022 Survey.

The recovery from the Covid-19 pandemic and the frequency of natural disasters and other emergencies present critical challenges for our members and immense pressure on their work. With that in mind, NASPO is extremely grateful to those who were able to find time to participate in this survey.

This year’s survey was revised to be more concise with fewer questions but also more targeted towards capturing the most relevant data from the practices of the modern procurement office. This is intended to provide a baseline of statistical information against which future data can be compared to identify the changes in the roles, responsibilities, and practices of state procurement offices and officials in the years to come.

To see all submitted responses in their entirety or for more details concerning any of the topics covered in this report, please reach out to research@naspo.org

THE REPOSITORY OF STATE PRACTICES

In 2022, NASPO introduced the Repository of State Practices (RoSP)¹. Originally built of response data from previous Surveys of State Practices, the RoSP is a database of state procurement statutes, regulations, and policies covering 16 topics. By maintaining the RoSP, we aim to reduce the length of the biennial Survey of State Practices and tailor the questions to the more contemporary interests of our membership. Throughout this report, you will also see data from the RoSP to supplement and add context to the survey response data (represented in greens).

STATE PROCUREMENT PROGRAMS AND POLICIES

THE ABA MODEL PROCUREMENT CODE

In 1979, the American Bar Association (ABA) published the Model Procurement Code for State and Local Governments. The ABA designated it as a model code instead of a uniform code, so that states might recast parts of it to fit their needs.² The Model Code was revised in 2000 and a construction-specific code was introduced in 2007. NASPO supports implementing the ABA Model Procurement Code's provisions into state procurement laws.

Has your state adopted the American Bar Association Model Procurement Code for State and Local Governments?

PROCUREMENT PROGRAMS AND INITIATIVES

Thirty-four states (75.6% of respondents) reported having at least one green or sustainable purchasing initiative. These results are explained below. For further information on the “other green/sustainable purchasing initiatives,” see the complete responses in the Appendix.

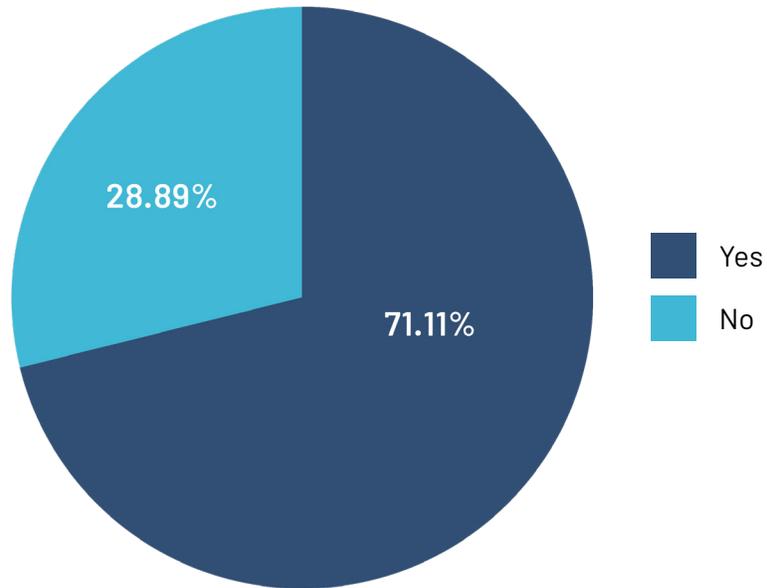

Has your state implemented any of the following green purchasing programs or initiatives? (Select all that apply.)

	%	COUNT
Statewide contracts offering green products and services	82.35%	28

PROCUREMENT AUTHORITY

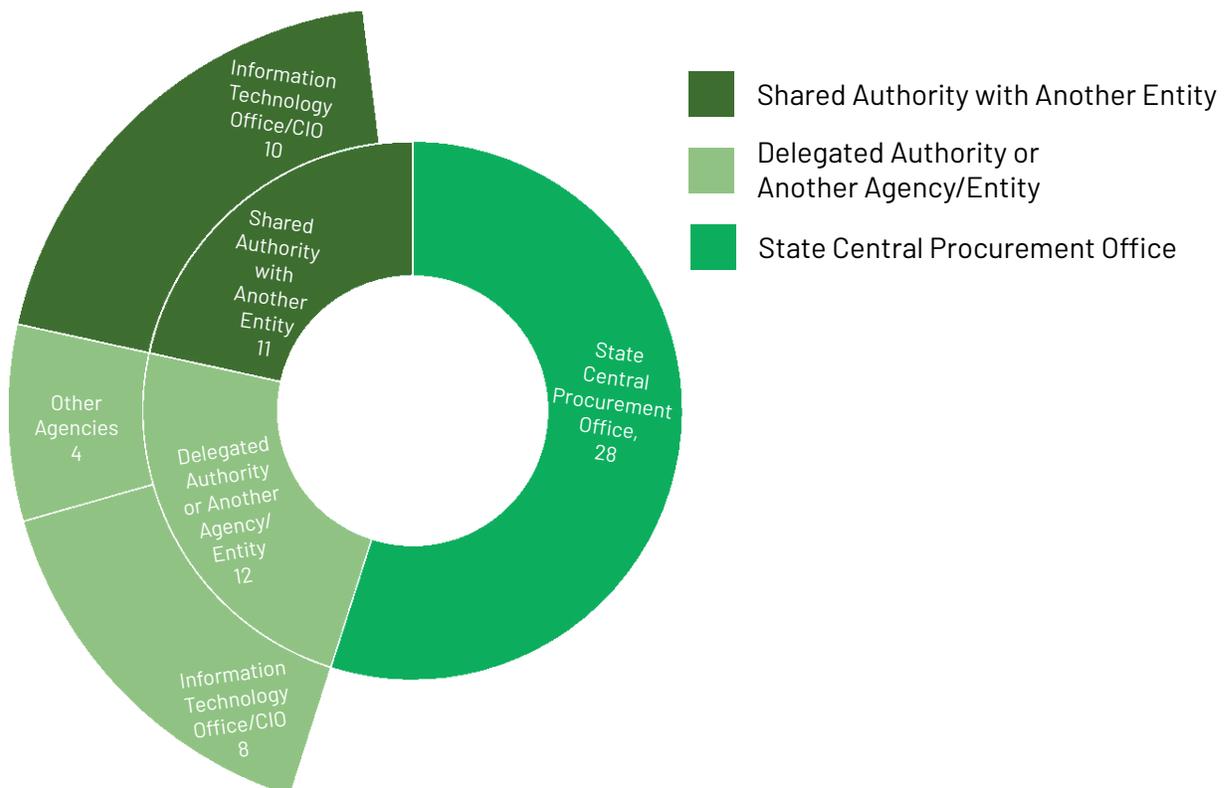

CENTRAL PROCUREMENT OFFICE WITH PURCHASING AUTHORITY

Does your state have a central procurement office with statutory purchasing authority across all areas of procurement within the state?

ANSWER	%	COUNT
Yes	77.27%	34
No	22.73%	10
Total	100%	44

According to the data in the RoSP³, central procurement offices have oversight of technology purchases in 28 states. In 11 states, this authority is shared with another entity. In the remaining 12 states, another entity has authority over technology purchases, or it has been delegated to other agencies. A Department of Information Technology, Office of the Chief Information Officer, or some other equivalent is the most common entity to share or own the authority over technology procurement in states where it is not wholly the purview of the central procurement office. This is illustrated in the following chart.

For higher education, the most common responses among the “other” entities were:

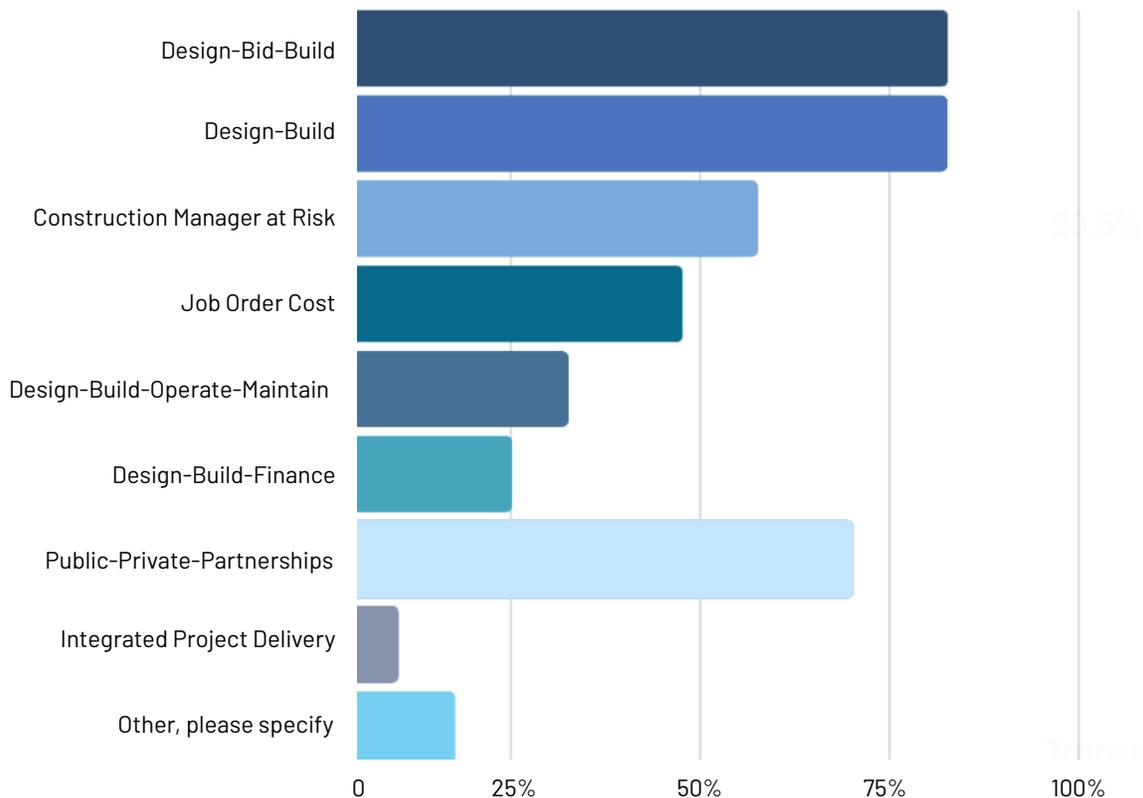

- Institutions have their own procurement offices independent of the state central procurement office
- A procurement office for higher education or the state department of education has oversight
- Authority is shared between the central office or department of education and the institutions

For building construction, the most common responses among the “other” entities were:

- A dedicated facilities or building construction office has authority and oversight
- Authority is shared between the central procurement office or another office in the department of administration and other entities including budget and finance offices

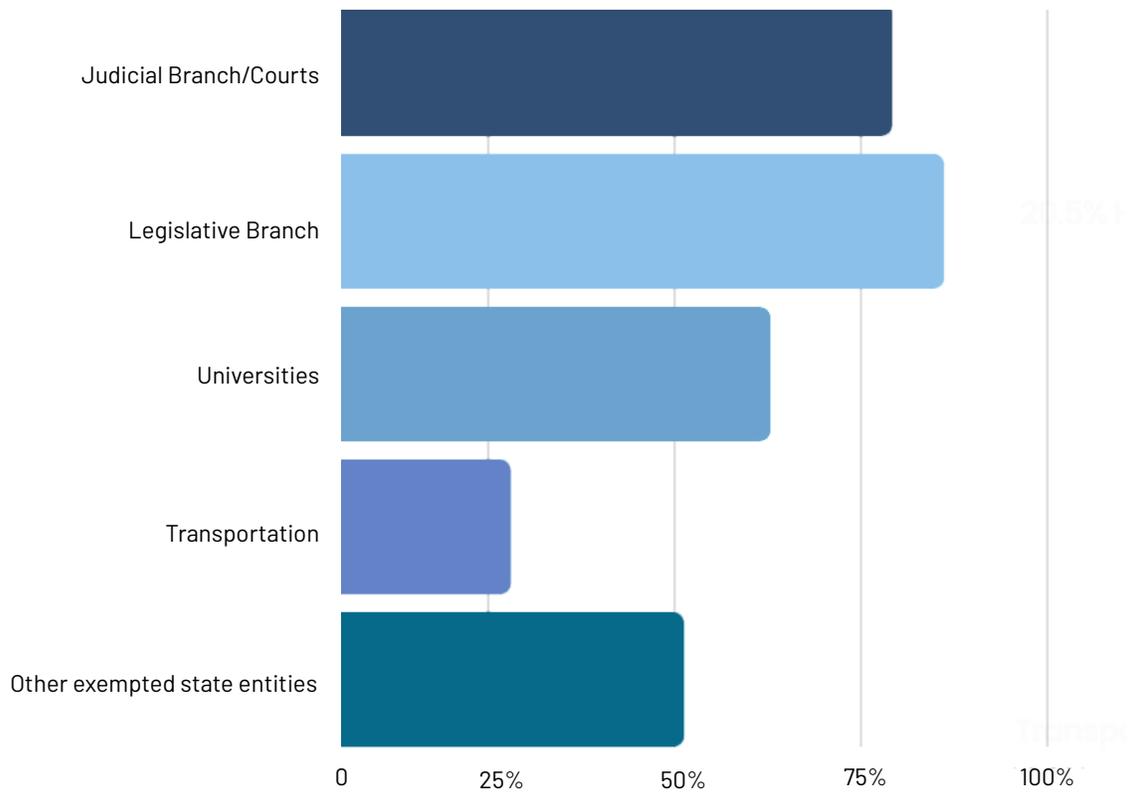

For highway construction, the most common response among the “other” entities was the department of transportation has authority and oversight.

DELEGATION OF PROCUREMENT AUTHORITY

Delegation refers to the power of entities to issue solicitations and make awards without direct approval by the central procurement organization. Delegated purchasing authority thresholds for commodities range from a low of $1,000 (Alabama) to a high of $3 million (South Carolina), with 13 states reporting no limit on delegated purchasing authority established in statute or regulation.

Does your central procurement organization have authority under statute or regulation to delegate portions of its authority to other state agencies?

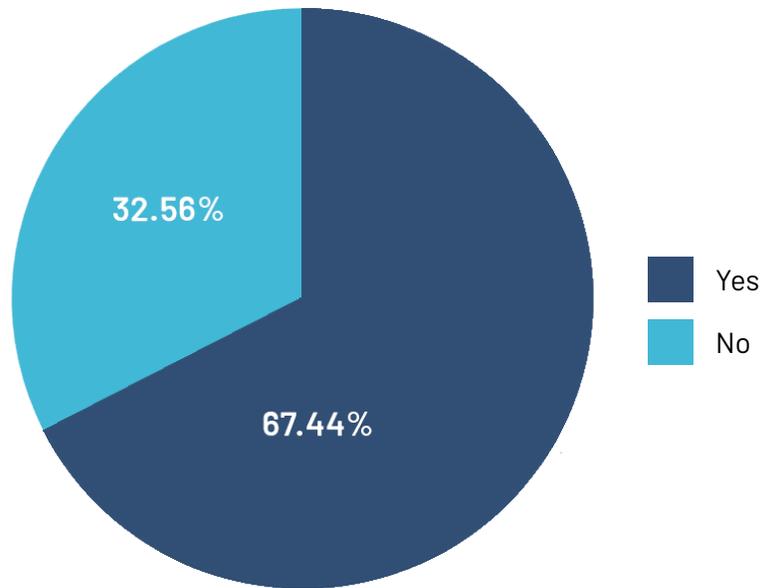

ANSWER	%	COUNT
Yes	82.35%	38
No	11.63%	5
Total	100%	43

TRAINING AND CERTIFICATION

All 43 responding states provide procurement training to state agencies, according to the survey. Approximately two-thirds of the represented state central procurement offices operate state-specific procurement certification programs for purchasing officials and staff.

Does your state central procurement office operate a procurement certification program for state agency procurement staff?

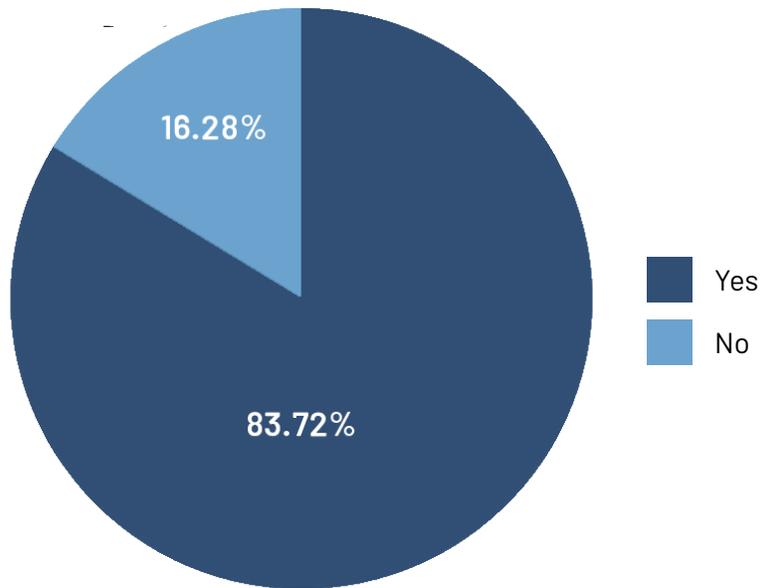

ANSWER	%	COUNT
Yes	67.44%	29
No	32.56%	14
Total	100%	43

Links to information about respondents' certification programs are included in the response data in the Appendix.

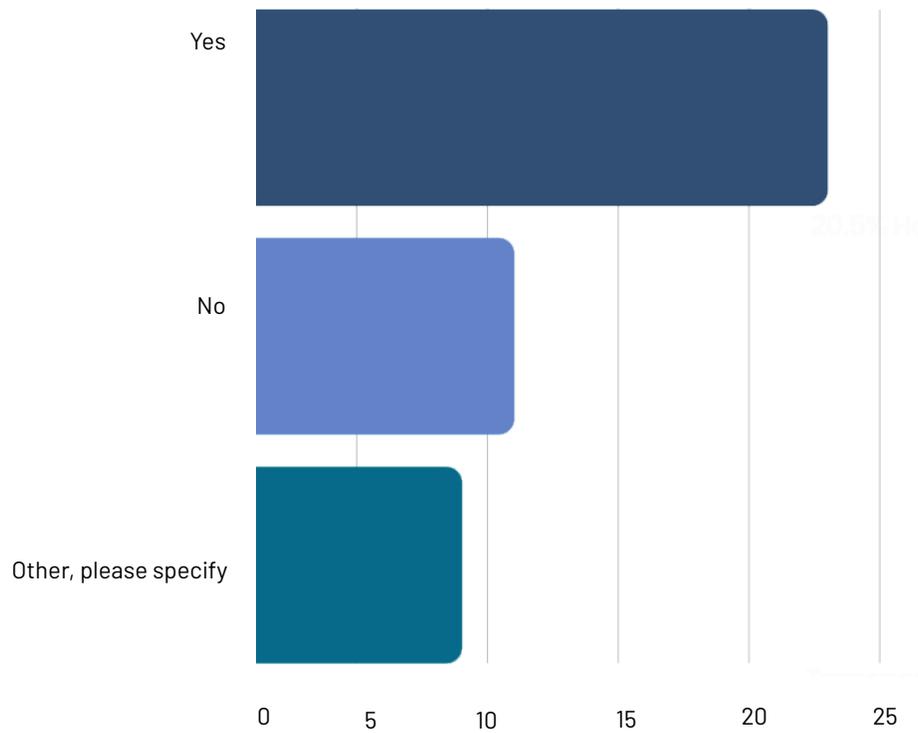

CHIEF PROCUREMENT OFFICER

Does your state have a single Chief Procurement Officer (CPO)?

ANSWER	%	COUNT
Yes	83.72%	36
No	16.28%	7
Total	100%	43

Is the title, role, and authority residing with the single CPO established in statute?

OFFICE STRUCTURE

Three respondents described CPOs reporting directly to the governor. However, CPOs in 36 states (83.7%) report to the head of the Department of Administrative Services, Department of General Services, or equivalent, who then reports to the governor or other officials in the governor's cabinet.

The size of state central procurement offices varies greatly depending on the size of the state and procurement authority. Staff sizes reported by survey respondents range between as few as 5 in Wyoming or 9 in South Dakota, to 200 procurement professionals in larger states like California.

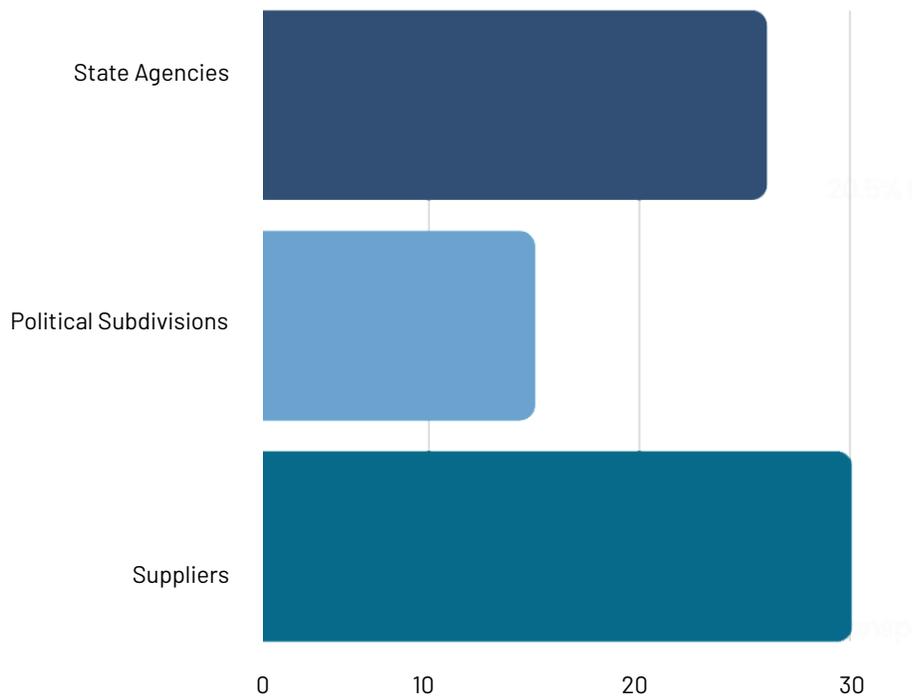

More information about procurement office structures can be found in the response data in the Appendix.

FUNDING AND FEES

Generally, state central procurement offices are funded by state appropriations or self-funded through the collection of fees. Of the responding states:

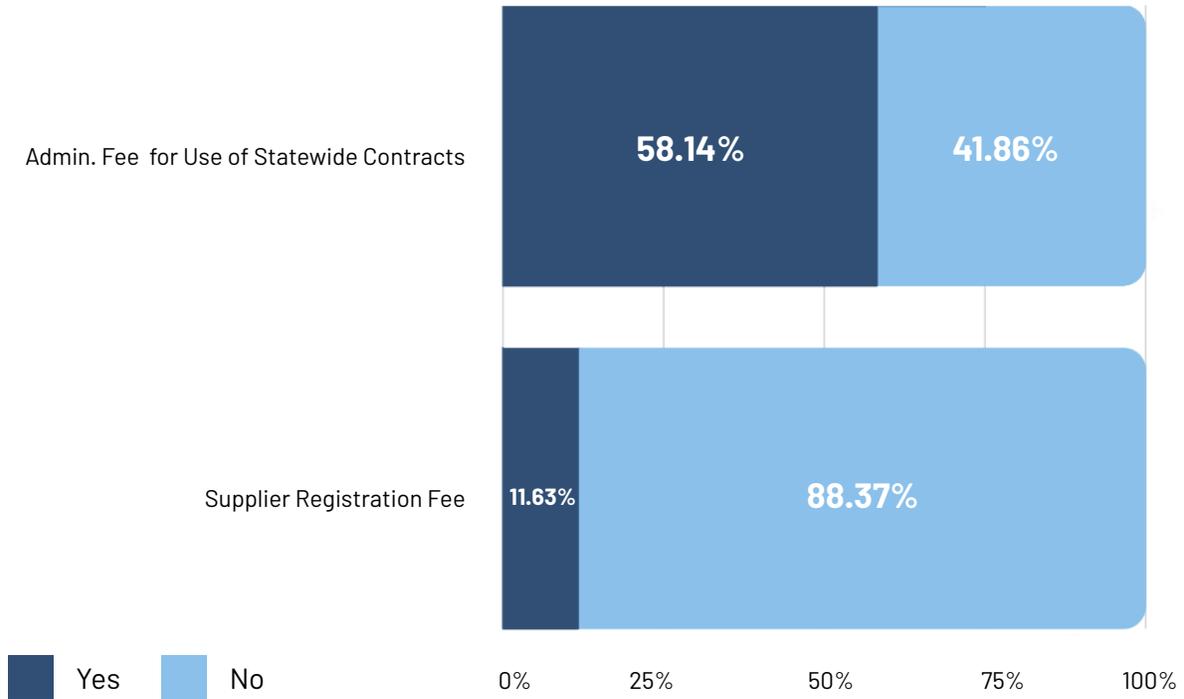

- 13 central procurement offices are completely or nearly completely funded by state appropriations
- 11 are completely or nearly completely self-funded with administrative and other fees
- 10 are funded through a combination of state appropriations and self-funding fees

State central procurement offices that charge fees for procurement-related services to the following entities:

Does your state allow not-for-profit organizations to utilize your statewide contracts?

ANSWER	%	COUNT
Yes	37.21%	16
No	62.79%	27
Total	100%	43

All 43 responding states reported using cooperative contract services, with nearly 98% purchasing from NASPO ValuePoint cooperative contracts. Other commonly used cooperative contract services included:

- MMCAP (Minnesota Multistate Contracting Alliance for Pharmacy)
- GSA (U.S. General Service Administration)
- OMNIA
- Sourcewell

SOLICITATION AND CONTRACTING PRACTICES

PROCUREMENT THRESHOLDS

For the purposes of the survey concerning procurement thresholds, “formal competition” requires that all suppliers who are able to supply the commodity, service, or construction that the procurement seeks must be invited to participate in the competitive procurement. Most often, the law applicable to the public entity sets a maximum expected dollar amount below which a contract may be exempt from formal competition. If the expected contract price or cost of the procurement meets or exceeds that dollar amount specified in the law, full—or formal—competition is required. An invitation to participate, or solicitation, must be readily and publicly available.

Of the respondents, at least 9 states have agency or category-specific thresholds, examples of which include different thresholds for commodities versus services procurements, or higher thresholds for IT or construction projects. One respondent (Puerto Rico) reported no threshold for formal procurement as all procurements require formal competition unless meeting specified circumstances.

From the formal procurement threshold response data:

- thresholds for formal procurement range from $3,500 (Vermont) to $250,000 (Colorado)
- the average threshold for formal procurement is $60,963
- the median threshold for formal procurement is $50,000
- the most common threshold for formal procurement is $50,000

Respondent data concerning informal/non-competitive and small purchase thresholds also shows a wide variety of limits. Of the respondents, at least 6 states have agency or category-specific thresholds. This excludes state-defined sole-source and emergency procurements.

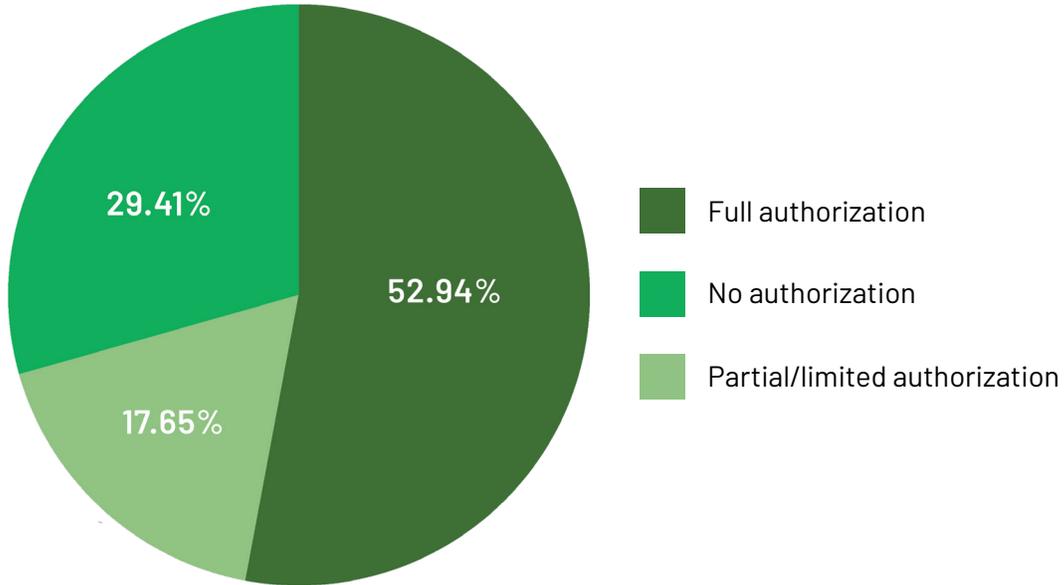

From the informal/non-competitive threshold response data:

- thresholds for informal/non-competitive procurement range from $1,000 (Alabama) to $200,000 (Virginia)
- the average threshold for informal/non-competitive procurement is $28,932
- the median threshold for informal/non-competitive procurement is $10,000
- the most common threshold for informal/non-competitive procurement is $10,000
- the most common maximum threshold for small purchases is $10,000

REVERSE AUCTIONS

According to data in the RoSP, just over half of all states fully authorize the use of reverse auctions for procurement.

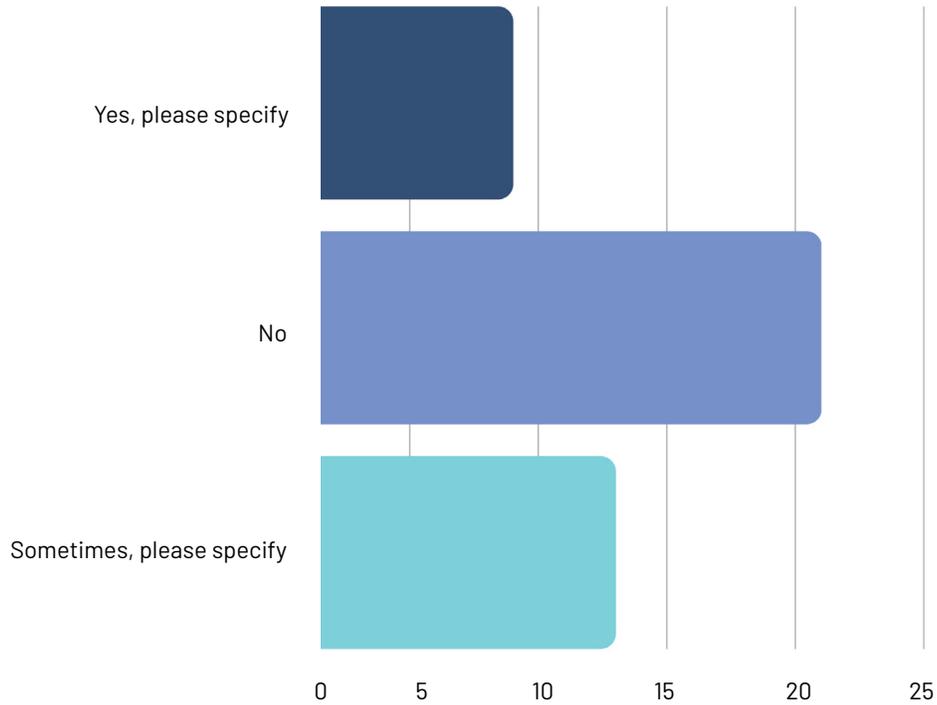

Authorization to conduct reverse auctions

ANSWER	%	COUNT
Full authorization	52.94%	27
Partial/limited authorization	17.65%	9
No authorization	29.41%	15

PRE-AWARD ANNOUNCEMENT REVIEW

For contracts developed by the state central procurement office, is there a review, approval, or pre-audit step (by someone outside of the state central office) that precedes public announcement of the contract award?

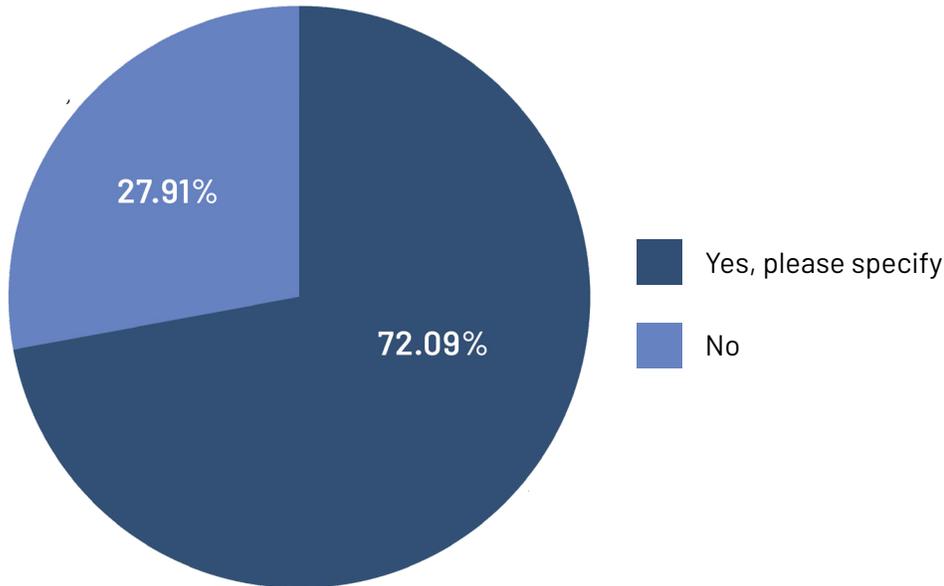

ANSWER	%	COUNT
Yes, please specify	20.93%	9
No	48.84%	21
Sometimes, please specify	30.23%	13
Total	100%	43

Most common among state responses, pre-award review is conducted by:

- Attorney General, Justice Department entity, or administrative legal counsel
- Customer agencies
- CIO or IT Department entity

AUDIT AUTHORITY

Does your state's central procurement office have authority to conduct audits of purchases made at the state/agency/division level (not including procurement audits conducted outside of the central procurement office, i.e. by the auditor general's office?)

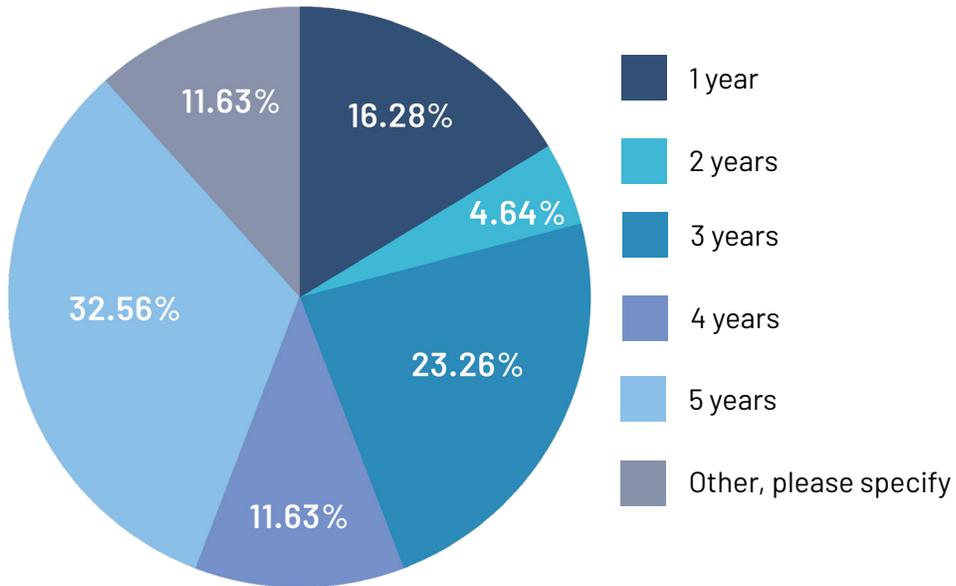

ANSWER	%	COUNT
Yes, please specify	72.09%	31
No	27.91%	12
Total	100%	43

Most responding states expressing audit authority are authorized to audit purchasing activity by all entities within the central procurement office's oversight or jurisdiction. For many states, these audits are conducted by a team or office within central procurement and are conducted on a regular basis. More details about audit authority can be found in the response data in the Appendix.

CONTRACT DURATION

On average, what is your state's standard contract length for all contracts?

ANSWER	%	COUNT
1 year	16.28%	7
2 years	4.64%	2
3 years	23.26%	10
4 years	11.63%	5
5 years	32.56%	14
Other, please specify	11.63%	5
Total	100%	43

Five states reported not having a standard contract length or that contract length varies depending upon commodity/service category or agency need. Many states have standard lengths for new contracts that can then be renewed multiple times.

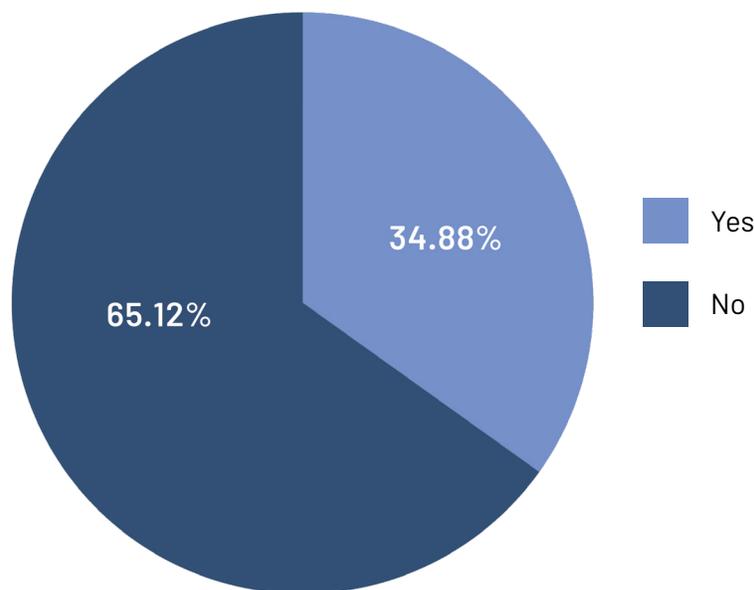

Nine states (20.5%) reported a maximum contract duration of 5 years. However, 15 states (34.1%) do not have a maximum duration established in rule or statute. Common responses also included:

- Exemptions to maximum duration rules for some IT/technology contracts
- Varied maximum durations dependent on commodity/service categories and/or business justification
- CPO or other executive authority can authorize contracts longer than standard duration

SUPPLIER PERFORMANCE METRICS

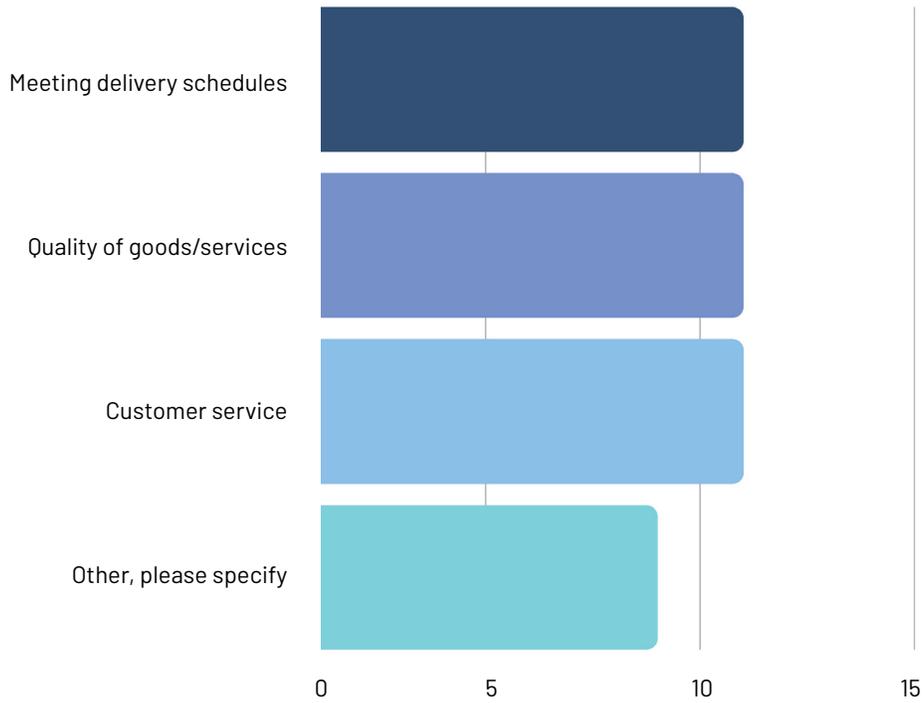

State central procurement offices maintain a record of supplier performance in just over one-third of responding states. The following charts illustrate supplier performance recordkeeping at the central procurement level among responding states.

Does your state central procurement office maintain a record of supplier performance?

Other, please specify	10.00%	4
Total	100%	40

Responses of "other" consist of a combination of contract user/agency fees, supplier fees, and appropriations.

PROTESTS AND CLAIMS

The RoSP contains the statutes and regulations that outline bid protest and appeal procedures for the states. Approximately 82% of states have a bid protest procedure prescribed in statute, rule, or regulation. Approximately 33% of states allow for suppliers to appeal a protest decision. According to the 2022 survey responses, 12% of responding states require a protest bond for formal competition.

Protest Claims and Appeals - Does your state authorize/require the following:

APPENDIX

Has your state implemented any of the following green purchasing programs or initiatives?

Other (please describe your green purchasing program or initiative) – Text

GA	Georgia law requires use of retreaded tires (OCGA 50-5-60.2) and recycled paper products (OCGA 50-5-60.1). Georgia law also mandates certain green building standards (OCGA 50-5-63).
ID	Optional preference for recycled paper
IL	sustainability program for small package delivery
IN	The Indiana Code governing the Recycled Preference offers an opportunity to inform the bidder community that we are serious about buying recycled! The State of Indiana should be requesting recycled products whenever possible. To be eligible to claim the Recycled Preference, qualifying products must contain at least 20% recycled materials (30% post-consumer for white copy paper). Bidders must provide manufacturer certification to substantiate their claim. However, if recycled content is listed as a requirement in the item specifications, the preference is not applicable and cannot be claimed. This preference does not apply to Procurement Contracts in most cases. The figure 15% as the preference amount is set as a standard. However, the preference offered may be anywhere between 10% and 15% if the amount of the preference that will be applied is stated in the solicitation.

MO	Missouri State Recycling Program created by sections 34.031 and 34.032 RSMo. MSRP is staffed by recycling manager and supported by the Missouri Interagency Recycling Committee and a large number of employee volunteers.
ND	Recycled Paper use goals, soy-bean based ink. Laws.
NM	State Purchasing “recommendation”
PR	Laws and executive orders have been created to ensure the purchase of sustainable products including the complete overhaul of vehicular fleet to hybrid or electric vehicles.
TN	Efficiency Standards and Life Cycle Costing Policy (https://www.tn.gov/generalservices/procurement/central-procurement-office-cpo-/library-.html)
UT	Hosted a sustainable procurement conference and will be including this on trainings moving forward.
VT	No set-asides but may spend up to 10 % more for comparable products that are made of recycled materials providing the State entities that are to use the product provide consent.
WA	Ban on PCBs

Has your state implemented a supplier diversity initiative?

Yes (please describe) – Text

CA	We conduct targeted outreach to small and diverse businesses in the State of CA. We provide training and education to diverse businesses and organizations across the state on securing state contracts. We have a Statewide Supplier Diversity Program Manager responsible for implementing supplier diversity initiatives across the state.
DE	Our state utilizes a number of different supplier diversity initiatives. By Executive Order, Gov Carney's E.O. #49 promotes the program and provides guidance; including plans by each agency within the state. The Office of Supplier Diversity operates within the Division of Small Business to engage, educate and promote supplier diversity initiatives. The state operates a separate Supplier Diversity Council to make recommendations to the OGOV/Legislature. And central contracting promotes outreach (not required by DE Code) to engage and promote opportunity for formally procured contracts.
FL	The Office of Supplier Diversity has existed in Florida for 20+years. We are constantly conducting outreach and education efforts.
GA	Georgia maintains a certified minority business enterprise (MBE) certification program. The State Purchasing Office provides training and issues MBE certifications. Georgia law offers a tax incentive to prime contractors receiving state contracts that subcontract with MBEs.
IL	Diversity Equity and Inclusion Business Commitment to Diversity as part of RFP scoring
IN	Indiana has a Division of Supplier Diversity (DSD) that handles all the business certifications of minority, woman, and/or veteran owned businesses, contract compliance, and business outreach and development. The division is required to do a disparity study every 5 years and uses the results of those studies to inform the annual utilization goals that they set for each business certification type. These goals in the State's solicitations and the commitments that the respondents propose are incorporated into the State's contracts. Changes to those commitments must be approved by DSD before they can be memorialized in an amendment.
IA	Targeted Small Business Program
KY	State agencies must contact at least one service-disabled veteran-owned business and one minority owned business unless they post their Request for Quote to the state eprocurement system.
LA	Hudson Vet Initiative https://www.doa.la.gov/oa/osp/vendor-resources/hudson-se-veteran-initiatives/

MD	Maryland has a robust program with goals and reporting requirements. COMAR 21.11.03 http://www.dsd.state.md.us/COMAR/SubtitleSearch.aspx?search=21.11.03 .*

RI	Our office DEDI Diversity Equity and Inclusion has established targeted minority business requirements of 10% of the total procurement.
SC	The Procurement Code establishes an Office of Small and Minority Business Contracting and Certification, and requires the setting of goals for MBE/DBE business participation
TN	The Governor’s Office of Diversity Business Enterprise (Go-DBE) is the State of Tennessee’s diversity certification agency. It serves as the central point of contact to coordinate the State’s efforts to facilitate greater participation by businesses owned and operated by Minority, Woman, Service-Disabled Veteran, Persons with Disability, and Small Businesses Enterprises. Businesses certified with Go-DBE are provided one-on-one assistance to make them aware of the State’s procurement processes and contracting opportunities and are equipped with knowledge and resources to help them successfully compete for State procurement opportunities. Go-DBE also assists State agencies in establishing and achieving internal diversity aspirational goals reported to the Governor and general assembly. The diversity aspirational goals set for State agencies vary and are based on each agency’s current and new procurements for the fiscal year, Go-DBE’s directory of qualified businesses available to compete for the procurements, and the agencies’ history of attainment of its diversity aspirational goal.
TX	https://comptroller.texas.gov/purchasing/vendor/hub/CHAPTER 2161. HISTORICALLY UNDERUTILIZED BUSINESSES https://statutes.capitol.texas.gov/Docs/GV/htm/GV.2161.htm
UT	A Supplier Diversity Council has been formed with both State representation as well as private sector and non-profits. It is still in early stages, but the State’s Division of Purchasing is engaging with the leaders and working to address systemic concerns to continue to support supplier diversity.
VT	We currently maintain a directory of self-certified Minority and Women owned businesses as part of our central procurement activities, and we are aware of other State agencies’ maintenance of similar and sometimes expansive program-specific diversity efforts (sometimes specifically shaped by particular federal funding). We are actively coordinating, both in the design and planned operation of our VTBuys eProcurement system, and in collaboration with the Equity Office of our State leadership (as to, but not limited to, VTBuys), to proactively consider and support diversity.
